

A painting by Vincent van Gogh titled 'Blue Horse' (1890). It depicts a blue horse standing in a field, with a rainbow visible in the background. The horse is the central figure, rendered in shades of blue and white, with its head turned slightly to the left. The background features a vibrant rainbow with bands of red, orange, yellow, green, and blue, set against a pinkish-red sky. The foreground shows green grass and a small green plant on the right. The overall style is characteristic of Van Gogh's expressive, post-impressionist technique.
