- A blank sheet of graph paper with a grid pattern. The grid consists of small squares formed by thin black lines. There are 20 columns and 15 rows of squares. The entire sheet is covered by this grid, with no margins or other markings.

- The diagram illustrates the construction of binary numbers using a grid of boxes. Each box is divided into three sections: a left section for a shaded square, a middle section for the binary digit, and a right section for a shaded square. The numbers shown are 10₂, 110₂, 1000₂, 11₂, 1100₂, and 10011₂.
